

CGI Constructors is a Construction Management and General Contractor with offices in Victoria, Vancouver, and Toronto. The company has successfully delivered an array of projects within various market sectors including community buildings, education, hospitality, institutional, commercial, and healthcare.

With a staff complement of 85+ personnel, CGI completes approximately $65 million in construction volume annually from coast to coast. CGI carries a successful track record of completed projects and assures its clients that it can provide the technical expertise, depth of resources, and financial stability required of a Construction Manager while offering the personal attention typical of companies of its size.

CGI Constructors is a people-focused builder with a desire and drive to continuously support its employees, clients, and communities. The company believes that how it builds is equally important to what it builds. With offices as unique as its people and the places they call home, CGI is an intimate team with an expansive portfolio of experiences to share. They build projects that support and positively impact communities, leaving a legacy for future generations. CGI is committed to celebrating the successes of its teams and individual employees. They succeed as a team.

With a collaborative and uplifting community culture, CGI's employees are able to share in its growth and success. The company's organizational principles are about understanding clients' needs, proactively working together, and sharing experiences. With these principles guiding them - Collaboration, Understand and Deliver, Creativity and Innovation, Strength in Diversity, Honesty and Integrity, Social Responsibility, and Building Partnerships, CGI creates a rewarding and inclusive environment for all.
